SIXTY THOUSAND DOLLAR SCHOOL BONDS CARRY

The Smith Site on South Citrus Avenue Chosen by Small Majority.

The high school bonds carried yesterday by an overwhelming majority of five to one, the vote standing at the close of the poll 264 to 54 in favor of the bonds.

A hot conflict developed over the question of site. Six sites were submitted but before the day of election all had been eliminated from the contest except the Smith site of five acres on Citrus avenue south of Badillo street and the Daniels site of 6:41 acres facing on Barranca, just outside of the city limits. The citizens of Charter Oak favored the Daniels site to a man, but those residing south and west of the city largely favored the Smith site. The vote when counted stood: Smith site, 163; Daniels site, 157.

The winning site is more particularly described as follows:

Bounded by Dexter street on the north, by Citrus avenue on the east, by Puente avenue on the south and by Third street on the west. The site comprises twenty city lots each 60x175. Five shares of Covina Irrigating Co. water stock are offered with the site. Price, $13,000.

The removal of Mr. P. S. Dotts out of the Charter Oak district created a vacancy on the school board which was filled yesterday by the appointment of H. M. Wells.

Fraternal Ceremonials.

The officers elect of the several lodges of the I.O.O.F. of district No. 91 were installed during the past week and the one preceding it by District Deputy Otto Anderson, assisted by George W. Coolman, acting Grand Marshal; John O. Houser and Prof. A. H. Collins, acting Grand Wardens; James K. Strosnider, acting Grand Secretary, Walter Armel, acting Grand Treasurer; and Frank Obaver, acting Grand Chaplain, as follows:

Covina, No. 362, July 1.
Pasadena, No. 324, July 2.
Crown City, No. 395, July 3.
Monrovia, No. 330, July 6.
Alhambra, No. 21, July 8.
I Will, No 243, July 10.
Citrus, No. 36, July 11.

The reports rendered to the Grand Lodge for the term ending June 30, 1908, show a total membership in the district of 700, a gain of 33 during the last six months.

All the lodges are in a very healthy financial condition and great interest is being taken by both officers and members. The officers elected and installed, in all instances, were fully up to the standard of Oddfellowship, being well posted in the new ritual and unwritten work of the order. The work of the installing officers received high and deserving commendation.

District Deputy Grand Master Anderson desires to fraternally thank all those who so kindly and ably assisted and accompanied him in the installation of officers in the different lodges. He also especially wishes to thank the officers and members of all the lodges visited for the courteous manner in which he was received and treated during his official visits.

Business Change.

Elsewhere, in the advertising columns, will be found the announcement of the sale of the grocery business of Brown & Bohri to J. F. Horne, formerly of the firm of Hall & Horne, general merchandise, of Downey, Cal.

Very general regret is expressed by our citizens at losing the genial members of the firm of Brown & Bohri, as these gentlemen, although comparatively newcomers, have made many warm friends both in business and social circles.

Mr. Horne is a thorough grocery man and will make a very valuable addition to the business circles of our city. With his family, a wife and two daughters, he has already moved to Covina and for the present will occupy the Casey residence on the San Bernardino road. He assumes charge of the business on Monday.

SHOTS ON THE WING.

Covina Lad Engages in Running Gun Fight with Chicken Thieves.

Wallace Reed, eldest son of Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Reed of East Badillo street, engaged in a running gun fight with two chicken thieves who were raiding the roost shortly after 1:30 o'clock Saturday morning. The marauders, two men of medium stature, had killed ten fat hens and had them in a sack when they were discovered by Wallace and a younger brother, Tom, who were awakened by unusual noises in the hen house. As soon as the thieves emerged from the building Wallace opened fire with a 38-caliber Smith & Wesson revolver. The men dropped the sack and ran, the boy following them in the dark for over a quarter of a mile, firing as fast as he could load. A trail of blood found the following morning is conclusive evidence that at least one bullet took effect. Dr. Reed was absent, making a professional call. Wallace is a freshman in the University of Southern California.

Death of a Veteran.

Death has removed another well known citizen from our midst.

After months of ill health and a few weeks of intense suffering, I. R. Jordan passed away at 11 p.m. Thursday. He was born at Muncie, Indiana, Jan. 17, 1846. During the Civil war he enlisted in the Seventh Iowa Infantry, and was wounded in the battle of Corinth, Miss. After his recovery he reenlisted in the Seventeenth Iowa Cavalry.

He was married to Mary Mark at Johnston Grove, Iowa.

The family removed to Kansas in 1874, and thence to California in 1896, since which time they have lived at Covina.

Four children survive, George L. Jordan of Napaville, Wash., Calvin Jordan of Burr Oak, Kansas, Mrs. Bertha Heath of Covina, and Gracie May Jordan.

Mr. Jordan was loved and respected by all who knew him. He was a faithful member of the Christian Church of Covina. During the weeks of severe suffering he was sustained by the faith of the Christian and bore his pain without murmuring.

He will be buried from his late home, in the Oakdale cemetery. The services will be held at 2 o'clock to-morrow. Rev. J. W. Utter of Los Angeles, formerly pastor of the Covina Christian Church, will assist Rev. Conley with the services.

Democratic Ratification.

There will be a Bryan and Kern ratification meeting Saturday evening, July 18th, at the Auditorium, Fifth and Olive streets, Los Angeles.

The meeting will be addressed by the delegates who have recently returned from the Denver convention, including Theo. A. Bell, John Sharp Williams, Judge J. E. Baker, Isadore Dockweiler and others.

Gasoline Gossip.

By B. M. Given.

Westwood Collins is kept busy these days motoring between the cottage on the San Bernardino road and the imposing ranch house he is building out Charter Oak way. The bills are beginning to come in and they make our friend grunt. He has discarded his natty automobile cap and is sporting a Stetson of the vintage of 1903—at least he says it is 1903. I can hardly blame him for going away back for head gear, for carpenters' bills and plasterers' bills and garage bills and vulcanizing bills would make a hole in a roll even as big as his.

Having nothing to do the other day, the writer, out of curiosity, figured up the first cost of the automobiles owned in this neck of the woods and was startled to find the total amount blown in on the smelly dofunnies up to date was $121,150.45—the 45c is car fare one prospective buyer spent going to Los Angeles trying to get ahead of the commission of the local agent. He got his machine all right, but for heaven's sake don't tell him the agent got the commission too; it would break his heart.

Some of our young men have lately started to give their lady friends auto rides. Well, that may be a good idea and suited to the twentieth century, but gee whiz! how can they work the steering wheel with one ——? That reminds me their daddies had no trouble driving a horse with one.

Has anyone seen the new spring tire a Los Angeles genius has sprung on the long-waiting automobile world? If it is only a go, the pleasures of motoring will be doubled, the cost of "up-keep" halved, and those of you who have stock in a Mexican rubber plantation had better unload. Tire expense is the greatest grief an automobilist has and makes it hard for a salaried man to live within his salary—but come to think, it would be still harder to live without it.

If you want to get your eyes opened to the true speed of your car, get a speedometer (don't go to town for one, either) and find your sixty miles an hour is only thirty-five and your thirty-five drop to a measly twenty-one or two.

I'll warrant the man who wrote the following jingle never saw a speedometer, maybe never rode in anything swifter than a local accommodation train, but he sure has hit the sensation:

Mr. C. W. Let's try again

Bert Potter piled his whole family into his new machine and Sam Aschenbrenner loaded up his swell touring car with his family and then just to test the springs, induced W. H. Potter and family to trust themselves to his steering and that party tried to go to the top of old Baldy by way of the San Antonio canyon. They did get so far as the foot of the Hogsback, then got scared and came back bumpety bump. You would have been frightened too if you had seen what they saw. You see there was a party of Pomona

Indorsed with Pleasure.

Confidence is rapidly being restored as regards the management of the hotel in Covina. There is nothing that will give a town a worse name with the traveling public than poor hostelry accommodations, and when commercial men and tourists go away from a town and say: "Town seems to be hustling all right, but you can't get a decent meal or a night's lodgings there," then the time has come when the profitable trade, which is a certain part of every town's assets, dwindles away, and the whole community suffers therefrom. Every tourist of means who comes to Southern California has a certain, half formed idea of buying an orange grove at some time. With many of them it is only a question of location. The town that supplies the best impressions is the one that wins. There is no chance to talk business with a man who has been poorly fed.

The Hotel Vendome, under Mr. Fitzgerald's management, is quite a little better than any of the hotels to be found in the valley. His twice-a-week chicken dinners, coming on Wednesday, and Sunday, are being patronized by many of the owners of homes in Covina who find it irksome to keep up a house on the usual scale during the hot months. Everyone who comes to the hotel speaks warmly in praise of the service, which is prompt and up to date in every way. At this season a good hotel is needed by the townspeople more than at any other time, and the people should know right away that the old system at this hotel has passed into oblivion since the coming of Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald. These two energetic people are rapidly making friends here also.

Being one of the most modern buildings, the hotel is cool and airy, the dining room is comfortable at all times, and the newly fitted reception room is a place where one may take visitors with pleasure. The Covina people really need the privileges to be gotten at this hotel, and they will undoubtedly embrace the opportunity which the new management makes possible.

ADVANTAGES OF GOOD ROADS

Taxes for the Proposed Bond Issue will be Light.

The campaign for good roads in Los Angeles County is now on in earnest. The highway commission has made its report showing the system planned; the bond issue has been fixed at $3,500,000, and the supervisors have set July 30th as the day when the electors must decide the question at the polls. Maps have been issued outlining the comprehensive plan of highways and the entire system is thus laid before the public for its approval. Upon its decision will it be determined whether Los Angeles County shall have the most complete and comprehensive system of rock paved highways in the country—an advertisement in itself worth their cost, as well as an inestimable benefit to every resident or visitor, or whether it shall continue to put up with dust and ruts in the summer and mud chuck holes with every rain; whether it shall spend $3,500,000, here at home right now, 80 per cent of it for labor and to start the wheel whirling again, or shall be content to tell the world that "we can't afford decent highways; we are too poor."

The good roads system as outlined comprises 3307 miles of rock highways. These directly connect every city, town and hamlet in the county. They bring into close touch the agricultural regions and their markets and shipping points. They enable the farmer, rancher or stockraiser to get his products to rail or trolley at the least inconvenience, by the shortest route, thus saving him time, money and the losses incurred by rough haulage and weather delays. They permit him and his to reach school or church in any weather and without inconvenience due to dust, rain or mud. They gridiron the country so thoroughly that they bring the cities and the country district into continuous contact, expedite mail delivery, facilitate haulage and accelerate business. They afford a network of rural pleasure drives for townspeople and country folks alike.

The cost of this superb road system, $3,500,000, is distributed by a bonded system over 40 years. It averages less than 40 cents per $1000 on the present valuation. If property increases as rapidly hereafter as it has done for forty years past—and nothing will increase it more than good roads—the sinking fund will be covered and to spare by the increment in land values alone, and good roads will have cost nothing. But admitting that they cost 40 cents per $1000, it is cheap indeed for such a road system.

The funds for building these 307 miles of road must all be expended for this purpose alone and for nothing else. The maintenance of the roads comes out of the county general fund. The county's regular road funds are left untouched. This is held in reserve and will be used to build laterals beside main thoroughfares. With it, also, supplementary highways may be constructed auxiliary to the general system as neighborhoods develop or links may be added to the planned system in cases which the bond issue does not cover. Thus in a brief while almost every ranch and orchard, farm and garden should, if not already on a main road, be connected with a good lateral one.

Los Angeles county is famed for its broadness of purpose, its high minded class of residents and its "pull together" spirit. The coming bond issue is expected to appeal to every voter. While the road system may seem imperfect to the rancher who is not directly reached by it, still he must admit that a short drive will always enable him to reach a rock road which he cannot now do under any circumstances, and he gains in time, expense, wear and tear, and condition of products, far more than the small cost to him. The resident of the small town sees his property values rise because of greater accessibility and convenience. The city man finds himself placed in closer touch with the rural regions and is enabled to enjoy a home there, with the facility of travel whose lack has hitherto made it impossible. To all classes therefore, good roads especially appeal, and everyone should vote for them at the election, to be held July 30th, next, being sure to register meanwhile

KERN SPONSER FOR LIQUOR INTERESTS.

Vice Presidential Candidate Too Frank in His Sayings.

Now that the convention is over, interest centers in learning more about the nominee on the Democratic ticket, Thomas Worth Kern. He is fifty-eight years old, too frank to be considered a good politician, wears a beard, which shows streaks of grey. He keeps his cheeks shaved and his mustache merges into his beard. All his life he has been aspiring to political offices and has met defeat so frequently that another added to his list will not materially affect him, in fact it will be the culmination of an active career before the people.

When assailed by the newspaper men at the convention for his views and his feelings and his life history, Mr. Kern was so elated at his elevation to the nomination of vice-president that he blurted out words that will ring in campaign speeches against him from now until day of election. He said:

"I owe my elevation to this great honor to Thomas Taggart, who stood for my nomination from the first and refused to back down before the claims of any other state. I did not ask him to act for me, nor did I urge anyone to get me the nomination. I am happy and gratified, but I made no effort to win the prize. The fact is that I did not think enough of my qualifications to return me a winner.

"I am not rich; I am not brilliant; I am not distinguished. My friends, however, seem to have convinced many other kind friends, and to Mr. Taggart and the others I am indebted and deeply grateful."

Now it appears that Taggart is a gambler of national repute and it was Kern that defended his gambling company's interests before the courts of Indiana. Kern has also been identified with numerous suits where he has defended the liquor interests and it is expected that the Prohibition vote in the Democratic party will refuse his lead.

Compared With Bryan.

Washington Star: Mr. Bryan's experience in office is limited to two terms in the House of Representatives. He failed at the bar. He achieved no distinction in journalism. His only success has been as a platform speaker. His power over a crowd is extraordinary, but passes immediately. His words do not linger and compel hearers to action. And this is the man the State would put in the highest seat of the mighty.

Judge Taft, but a year or so older than Mr. Bryan, has served as a judge of the State Court in Ohio, as collector of internal revenue, as Solicitor-General of the United States, as a Circuit Judge of the United States, as Governor-General of the Philippines, and as Secretary of War. He is one of the best lawyers in America. Not a failure is charged against him, while his successes have been so signal he is regarded as his party's best asset.

Iowans' Summer Picnic.

The Iowa Association of Southern California announces the first summer outing to be held at Long Beach, Saturday, August 8, 1908

The people of Long Beach extended an invitation to the Iowans at the time of the great annual picnic, February 22, at East Lake Park, and the officers have decided to accept the invitation.

Every former resident of Iowa with family and friends is invited to join in this reunion. The object is simply to have a grand, good time; to meet old friends and talk over old times. Free band music will be furnished by Long Beach and tables will be provided for the thousands.

A new badge will be sold and each one wearing it will have coffee furnished free. Bring your own picnic lunches and put up enough for a friend also. Further details will be announced later. Further information may be obtained from the secretary, C. H. Parsons, Artesia, Cal.

Can't Be Beat.

The best of all teachers is experience. C. M. Harden, of Silver City North Carolina, says: "I find Electric Bitters does all that's claimed for it. For Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles it can't be beat. I have tried it and find it a most excellent medicine." Mr. Harden is right; it's the best of all medicines also for weakness, lame back, and all run down conditions. But too for chills and malaria. Sold under guarantee at C. F. Clapp's drug store. 50c.

Ten Telephone Commandments.

1. Thou shalt call by number only.

2. Thou shalt always answer thy telephone at the first sound of the bell.

3. Thou shalt not use thy telephone when the lightning cracks in the sky for verily I say thou endangerest thyself and will not be answered.

4. When the operator says, "Shake up your transmitter," thou shalt shake, even if it giveth thee paralysis.

5. Thou shalt not call again directly after ringing off, else the operator deem it a ring-off and not answer.

6. Thou shalt not expect to get a party in another town directly after calling, for the line may be busy or the party not to be found.

7. Always shalt thou ring off when through speaking, for it will save confusion all around.

8. Thou shalt not rave and cuss at the operator if he does not answer on the dot, for he is busy and will attend to thy wants as soon as possible.

9. Never shalt thou flirt with the operator nor force her to converse with thee for it doth impair the service.

10. Above all never shalt thou get huffy and lose thy temper but be thou courteous and pleasant voiced, and remember especially that thine is not the only wire in the cable.—Telephony.

A Neat Pharmacy.

W. W. Nash has moved his drug store this week into its new quarters at the corner of Citrus avenue and the car line.

With its new fixtures and tasteful arrangement and furnishings, the store presents an inviting appearance.

The shelving, with drawers underneath, and prescription case, all made of highly finished hardwood, are fine examples of cabinet makers' skill. There is a place for everything—even the innumerable articles necessary for a prescription druggist.

In the front of the store Mr. Nash has left space for waiting room, where ladies may stop for the electric cars. A phone is nearby and handy for public use.

Shade Trees Dying.

Considerable comment is being made by townspeople about the condition of the shade trees on Cottage Drive. The trees immediately to the south of the Hotel Vendome are brown to the top branches from lack of water, and as they extend down the street some of the trees seem in worse condition. These trees were planted with a great deal of care, and chosen as to variety because they were suitable for a narrow street. Up until this time they have made a rapid growth. It is rather a pity that sufficient water could not be given them to check them from dying back or from dying altogether as they seem to be doing now.

COVINA, July 18, 1908.

In voting $60,000 bonds yesterday for the purchase of a site and the erection of a high school building, the citizens of Covina have taken another step, and a very important one, towards making Covina the foremost town in the San Gabriel valley. Sixty thousand dollars, and the premium these bonds will fetch in the market, will provide a sum of over $15,000 for the erection of a building, which should give Covina a high school second to none in Los Angeles county. The balance, which will approximate $20,000, will pay for the site and thoroughly equip the building.

Covina is growing today as no other city in Los Angeles county, and its productive soil, abundance of water and the public spirit of its citizens are assets which guarantee a continued, steady and substantial growth.

Covina has a second newspaper, the Wave, the first number of which appeared last week. Considering its proximity to Los Angeles with its five daily papers which circulate freely throughout this valley, and the further fact that the Argus is one of the best local papers in the county, we can see no room for a second paper in Covina, but if there is an "aching void" in the newspaper field in our neighboring city we hope Mr. Mann will be able to fill the same. It is rather discouraging, however, after an editor has worked so long and faithfully for the promotion of a place as J. L. Matthews has for Covina, to see the leading business men of the city so ready to assist an outsider to come in and attempt to drive the home paper to the wall, as that is about what the newcomer usually hopes to be able to do, as everyone familiar with the newspaper business knows there is no room in a town of Covina's size for two papers, especially within an hour's ride of a great city.—Azusa Pomotropic.

We appreciate the kindly words of our brother editor of Azusa and shall always try to deserve the same. In justice to the merchants and business men of Covina, however, we would state that the Argus has received more kindly words, and what is more to the point, favored with more business (as our advertising columns show) since our competitor entered the field than at any time in the history of the paper. The people like the Argus and the Argus likes the people.

Congressional Primaries.

Tickets of delegates who will be friendly to the interests of Congressman McLachlan in the county congressional primaries are announced.

These tickets will be voted on next Monday from 1 until 7 o'clock in only the congressional districts in Los Angeles county outside of Los Angeles and Pasadena. They will be the only Republican tickets in the field as the demand for McLachlan's return to Congress is unanimous on account of his determined stand for protection on the citrus industry.

The delegates chosen at Monday's primaries will attend the convention at Long Beach Aug. 15.

Delegates to this convention who will represent the cities of Los Angeles and Pasadena will be chosen at the county primaries to be held August 11, when delegates will also be named to attend the state and county conventions.

Delegates from the 68th Assembly District will be: J. A. Dole, J. L. Means, Daniel Durker, W. W. Heth, James Cleminson, F. M. Chapman, B. R. Davisson, A. W. Swain, A. J. Stevens, Wilmot Parcher, E. P. Rose, E. A. Fisher, C. H. Clark, C. O. Newquist.

Mrs. W. A. Young and family went up to Cold Brook Camp this week. On account of the illness of the baby, Mrs. Young was compelled to return to Covina the day after going up. Her daughter, Miss Blanche, will stay at the camp for a while.

To Keep the Streets Clean.

The city's new garbage and rubbish cans have arrived and have been placed at the corner of every principal streets in the city. They are to be used as recepticles for waste paper, rubbish, etc., which when thrown on the streets lends an untidy and shiftless air to the whole city. Now that these cans have been provided there is no excuse for the habit of throwing trash into the street, and parties guilty of the same will be subject to arrest and prosecution. The marshal has been instructed to strictly enforce the ordinance.

The marshal has also been instructed to arrest all parties guitly of the filthy habit of expectorating on the sidewalks. Gentlemen will not and others must not.

Dies in Pasadena.

The death of A. S. DeWitt, which occurred on Monday at Pasadena, does not come as a surprise to his many friends in this city, the deceased having been ill with Bright's disease for many months.

The funeral, held at Long Beach on Wednesday, was attended by several members of the firm of Warner, Whitsel & Co. of this city, of which he was an employee for several years before entering the service of the Pacific Electric railway. He was a man who was always held in the highest esteem by his employers and fellow employees.

The bereaved wife, who expects soon again to be a mother, has the heartfelt sympathy of her many friends in Covina. The deceased leaves one son, a boy of eight.

Sporting News.

Dove season opened on Wednesday and long before daylight every sportsman in Covina had started for the hills and the water holes.

A. R. Evans secured the limit before 7 o'clock in the morning. He found the birds plentiful at the south of his orange grove on the Baldwin line.

A party consisting of Mayor E. H. Lahee, R. C. Pollard, F. H. Fabrick and C. E. Paige secured excellent sport in the foothills of Glendora.

C. D. Griffiths, manager of the Kerckhoff-Cuzner lumber yards at this point, crack shot, secured the limit at Glendora before 8 o'clock in the morning.

The first buck of the season, killed in the Little Dalton canyon, fell to the guns of Covina hunters, Ira Bell and Edward and Mark Middaugh. The boys left here Tuesday evening, returning home Wednesday.

A most enjoyable farewell reception was tendered to Mrs. J. B. Lamb by the Ladies Aid of the M. E. Thursday afternoon in the parlors of the church. Refreshments of punch and cake were served and the tables were gay with cut flowers. A musical program was enjoyed and Mrs. Lamb, who is leaving soon for Lake county, was presented with a dozen pretty china plates as a token of affection.

A Year's Service

is nothing to brag about for a pair of

Menz-"Ease" Elk Skin Work Shoes

We have known some men to wear Menz-"Ease" shoes every working day and Sundays too for two and even three years. For a man who is on his feet all the time in the field, on the railroad or in the factory there isn't a more comfortable, longer wearing shoe made than the genuine Menz—"Ease'.

Genuine Menz-"Ease" Elk process leather used only in Menz-"Ease" shoes, is as tough as rawhide but as soft as a glove. One remarkable feature of this leather is that it will always remain soft and pliable, even if wet through and dried out day after day for weeks and weeks. We do not deny that you can buy right in this town an imitation of a genuine Menz-"Ease" make of so-called Elk Skin leather, but do not be deceived. An article known as an imitation is never as good as the genuine. The name Menz-"Ease" on bottom of sole and the yellow silk label are easy to find; put there for your protection.

The wife of J. J. Fitzgerald, proprietor of Hotel Vendome, was removed to the Pacific Hospital, Los Angeles, yesterday afternoon to be operated upon for appendicitis. This lady was taken ill about a week ago and as soon as the nature of the disease was known, Dr. Capps, who was attending her, called in Dr. Buel, the celebrated surgeon of Los Angeles, who decided yesterday on the operation. Mrs. Fitzgerald has retained her strength well and every hope is held out that the operation will prove successful.

Considerable excitement was caused Thursday evening by Hutchison Bros.' transfer team making a wild run through the business portion of the city. The team had been left standing in front of the postoffice by the driver, who had gone in to get the mail sacks prior to taking them to the train. A Jap boy rode up on his wheel and leaving it at the edge of the walk it fell against one of the horses and in a moment the team whirled around and started on a run west on Badillo street. The wheel having become entangled in the harness, the horses became more and more frightened, turned on Citrus Avenue and did not stop until they fell on the sidewalk in front of the First National Bank building, where they were stopped. It was a remarkable runaway from the fact that little or no damage resulted, even the wheel escaping without injury, although it was dragged the entire distance. Several boxes of oranges which were in the wagon were scattered along the way, to the delight of the small boys.

Long Beach Chautauqua.

All residents of the Southwest who are in any way interested in Chautauqua and kindred lines of work are to be congratulated on the splendid program which commenced at Long Beach Monday evening and continues through to the evening of July 25.

The management have spared no pains in securing the very best talent offered for this work in any portion of the nation and as a result they offer a list of lectures that cannot be excelled by any similar institution.

Among the foremost of these is Senator John Sharp Williams, until recently leader of the minority in the lower house of Congress. Mr. Williams not only ranks among the first of our statesmen but he is admittedly one of the very best of all the platform orators of the nation today. His every appearance is a treat and will be so regarded by all who are fortunate enough to hear him.

Another national character and one who has won his right to hearing by work done in the way of reviving public conscience is Hon. Francis J. Heney of San Francisco The accomplishment of Mr. Heney in the prosecution of the Oregon land frauds and the San Francisco grafters is still fresh in mind and needs no recapitulation here. He will tell those who attend the Long Beach Chautauqua of both and the stories will well repay a thoughtful hearer.

In addition there will be addresses by Mrs. Leonora M. Lake, leader in the child labor reform movement, and one of the most graceful and convincing public speakers of the day; Dr. Ira Landrith; Dr. Edwin Soutthers, more familiarly known as "Cycolne;" James Clement Ambrose, and others, making a list of eminent orators such as have seldom been gathered together for one entertainment.

The chief musical attraction will be "The Crusaders." which beautiful cantata will be presented by several of the very best soloists in Southern California and a chorus of seventy five fine voices under the direction of Prof. J. B. Poulin, recognized as the leading musician of this section.

In short there are no weak places in all the two weeks of program and each event will be found to have its peculiar attractions.

For Sale A four cylinder Elmore in fine condition. For particulars write P.O. box 393, Covina, or the Covina Garage. tf Protected the Child.

The sight of a woman thrown violently from a wrecked buggy while holding a baby in her arms electrified a crowd of people gathered near the postoffice Saturday evening, and it was only through the protective instinct of the mother that the child was saved from serious injury.

Mrs. Malcolm J. McCarthy, wife of a Covina rancher, and baby, were sitting in a buggy in front of the postoffice when the electric car came by. The horse started backing and pushed the buggy directly in front the path of the car, where it was struck and completely demolished. The impact threw the woman toward the curb and when she struck the baby was tightly clasped in her arms and did not touch the ground.

Mrs. McCarthy was badly bruised about the body and several serious abrasions were made upon her face. She is recovering slowly from the shock and is able to be about the house.

Mr. McCarthy had only entered the postoffice a few moments before the accident occurred. Mrs. McCarthy is a daughter of Mr. Mark Brimble of Barranca street.

Cold Brook, or Dawson's Camp.

After thoroughly canvassing that all-important question, how and where we should spend the "Glorious Fourth" we decided on the San Gabriel Canyon and, if possible, to reach Cold Brook Camp, a distance of twenty miles from Azusa.

Not having a suitable spring wagon for two horses, we decided to try it with our single rigs with the understanding that of we found the roads not suited for our rigs, or the rigs not suited for the roads, we would return home that night. So about 9 a.m., with a good liberal lunch and grain for the horses, we started on our journey.

Arriving at the San Gabriel river we found the river bed, but the river had gone a glimmering, or somewhere else, so on we pushed, and ere long we found streams with water in them. About one p. m., not having found any roads that were any better adapted to two horses than one, we halted, fed our horses and tasted the quality of the contents of the lunch basket, for which by this time we were fully prepared. This done we decided to go on to Cold Brook. We soon reached Camp Rincon, with its hotel, dancing pavilion and other buildings, nestled under the shade of the trees, but as we still had eight miles with a rise of 1500 feet before us, we did not stop to invesitgate the beauties of the place.

From there on, although the ascent was steep, we found good roads, better even than some of the roads within a radius of five miles of Covina.

Arriving at the camp about 5 p. m. we inquired for the proprietor, Mr. R. W. Dawson (who, by the way, is evidently not a stranger to many people in and about Covina, as he owns a fine orange grove some two and a half miles north of Col. Chapman's) and were informed that he was coming up on the stage, which had not yet arrived. Others, however, looked after our welfare and we soon were very nicely located.

This done, we spent a few moments taking in the situation, and it certainly is one of the most beautiful spots I ever saw.

Nestled under the fir and alder trees is the hotel, with two streams, forming the north fork of the San Gabriel river, coming down on either side and meeting in front of the hotel, the tents located, not with any particular set system, but wherever there is a cosy spot, with rustic bridges to reach them; the mountains towering upon three sides, the rippling waters as they go singing down over the rocks; surely it is a spot full of grandeur and a feast for a lover of the beauties of nature.

Just beyond the hotel is the foot of a good trail leading to Crystal Lake, a distance of three miles, and on to Pine Flats.

Just here let me give the elevation of a few points: Camp Rincon, 2000 feet; Cold Brook, 3500 feet; Crystal Lake, 5500 feet.

After the stage arrived there were four ladies bound for Pine Flats. The burros were immediately saddled and on they went, up the mountains, and it was an amusing sight to watch them winding back and forth till they finally disappeared.

Still beyond Pine Flats about two or two and a half miles is a point where you look over into Los Angeles, Orange, San Diego, San Bernardino, Riverside, Inyo, Kern, Santa Barbara and Ventura counties.

Did you ask about the mosquitoes? No, the pestive mosquito, with his melodious song to sing you into disquietude and unrest, is not there. He is an unknown quantity.

After a good night's rest the writer took a little trip up the canyon to the left of the hotel and after a five minutes' walk came to the falls, with a drop of perhaps fifteen feet, at the foot of which we found a Mr. and Mrs. Drake camped. Just above the falls is what is known as Diamond Rock, a huge boulder, in form somewhat like a cube, standing on one point in the middle of the stream and is estimated to weigh over 5000 tons.

The forenoon was spent in a trip up the canyon to the right of the hotel and taking in the various views of interest, in short, feasting on the beauties and grandeur of nature, with which we were completely surrounded. At 1:15 p.m. we bade farewell to Cold Brook, homeward bound, and at 5:30 p. m. were enjoying a dish of ice cream at Azusa, tired and dusty, but feeling well repaid for the effort we had made.

ORDINANCE NO. 51.

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE NUMBERING OF BUILDINGS FRONTING ON PUBLIC STREETS IN THE CITY OF COVINA.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Covina do ordain as follows:

Sec. 1. All entrances from the public streets of the City of Covina to buildings shall be numbered as hereinafter provided:

The number of each front entrance shall be placed in a conspicuous position over, upon, or adjacent to, each and every door or entranceway to such premises.

After notice by the City Clerk calling attention to this ordinance, the occupant, lessee, tenant, subtenant, or anyone in control of such building, anyone of which receiving such notice shall within ten days thereafter furnish the City Clerk with a description of such premises, as per map and plat thereof on record in the city office, and upon payment of seventy-five cents by such applicant to the City Clerk for each and every number, it shall be the duty of the clerk to designate the number or numbers to such premises and to furnish such applicant with figures to represent such number or numbers. The figures used in such numbers shall not be less than two inches in height and of corresponding width, mede out of rust proof metal or porcelain.

Sec. 2. The following shall be the respective starting points or dividing lines for numbering on buildings fronting on streets heretofore laid out or hereafter to be laid out or extended, viz:

From east to west Citrus Avenue shall be the dividing line; and from north to south Badillo Avenue shall be the starting point.

East shall precede and become a part of the name of each avenue or street running easterly from Citrus Avenue; and the word west shall precede and become a part of the name of each avenue or street running westerly from Citrus Avenue.

The word north shall precede and become a part of the name of each avenue or street running northerly from Badillo Avenue and the word south shall precede and become a part of the name of each avenue or street running southerly from Badillo Avenue.

Numbers shall begin at the above named starting points or dividing line and continuing to the termini of the respective streets.

Sec. 3. The numbers on the northerly and westerly sides of streets shall be odd numbers and the numbers on the southerly and easterly sides shall be even numbers.

Sec. 4. A block within the meaning of this ordinance shall be that portion of any street between two crossings or between a crossing street and abutting street, or between two abutting streets. In case of abutting streets the prolonged center line of abutting street shall be the dividing line of the block, and provided that all blocks exceeding one thousand feet in length shall be considered as two blocks.

Sec. 5. One hundred numbers or as many thereof as shall be necessary shall be allowed to each block.

Number 100 shall be the first number used at respective beginning points on the side of the streets which are to contain the even numbers; and number 101 for the side of the streets which are to contain the odd numbers.

At the beginning of the second block from the starting point the first number shall be 200 and 201 respectively and to continue through out the system; lots with forty feet frontage or less frontage to have one number and lots with more than forty feet frontage to have two numbers.

Should the door or entryway fall on the dividing line between two sections the number of the section best representing the premises shall be used; should several doors or entrance ways occur in succession within less space than is provided for in this ordinance the numbers may be shifted forward or backward so as to provide for a fractional number for each entrance or a new series in alphabetic order.

Numbers to be calculated from the end of the block at which the number begins. On all streets the numbering shall be done as if the streets extended to the dividing line or starting points for the city as defined in Section 2 of this ordinance.

The appropriate number for a specified location where not regularly laid out blocks and streets may be approximately ascertained by using measurements as per plat in an adjoining block.

Sec. 6. Any person, persons, firm, or corporation, who shall violate, neglect or refuse to comply with any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars or by imprisionment not exceeding twenty-five days or both such fine and imprisonment.

Sec. 7. The City Clerk shall certify to the passage of this ordinance and shall cause the same to be published once in the Covina Argus, a newspaper published and circulated weekly in the said City of Covina, and thereupon and thereafter the same shall be in full force and effect.

A Boomerang Joke.

It was a spirited advertisement in the Argus which caused the return of some "appropriated" property last week. The returns from the "ad" were immediate. Messrs. Schumm & Harris of the local tailor shop lost two hammocks on the night before the Fourth. They were aware that someone was "having fun" with them, and were pretty sure who it was. The ad inserted was something like this: "If the two big stiffs who were seen stealing the hammocks in the rear of our shop will call on us they can have the hooks, as we have no further use for them."

The proprietors say that it was the following day that two fellows made a stealthy attempt to return the hammocks and were caught in the net. It also developed that a rancher, who stands six feet two in his stocking feet, known to his intimate friends as Frankie, was supposed to have two second-hand hammocks which he would sell cheap. When it became known to some of the people about town, he was called on the phone no less than fifteen times to answer questions about those same hammocks, and once he traveled across a twenty acre grove to answer a call on this subject.

"Modern Shoe Comfort"

What is it that is fundamentally wrong with ordinary shoes?

They so seldom are comfortable!

So often cause such suffering!

Within the last year, thousands of women have written us about their shoe troubles one had tried six other shoes before the Acme.

When all these different women find such comfort, such relief in the Acme, it is only natural for you to ask, "What is the difference?

Ordinary shoes hurt because the sole of the natural foot is soft, curved, yielding the sole of the ordinary shoe is hard, flat, unyielding.

A moment's thought will convince you that the daily grind and grate of two such opposite surfaces must cause trouble. The painful process of "breaking in" new shoes is the clearest proof of it.

What takes place then, is just what is happening in a less degree all the time. If you could look inside of your shoes with your foot in it, you would see! The sole of your foot bends the sole of your shoe scarcely at all.

At every step, the ball of your foot bearing the entire weight of your body rubs against the sole.

This constant rub, rub, rub is what brings hard, callous places what makes your feet burn, throb, ache!

In the Acme, there is none of this rubbing.

Its sole is flexible. The secret is:

In tanning ordinary sole leather, acids so strong that almost parch and scorch it, were used to hurry the tanning process.

It is then "loaded" with glucose and clay to make it heavy, as it is sold by the pound.

The leather for Acme shoes is tanned by a mild solution of genuine oak bark that takes six months but preserves all its natural life and suppleness. No clay or foreign substances are added. While of regular thickness it bends with the foot.

It follows every movement of the foot as a glove moves with the hand; it entirely prevents the rubbing, burning and "drawing" caused by stiff soles; it gives a feeling of freedom a springy, buoyant sensation you cannot conceive of until you have worn it.

Nor is there any of the pinching or binding any of the strain nor tension caused by incorrectly designed shoes. The Acme is built over lasts that conform with absolute accuracy to the shape of the foot. It fits perfectly at every point! It removes every cause of foot suffering.

Social News

Guests of the Misses Lillian and Violet Coulter on Sunday were fellow students at the Los Angeles School of Art and Design, Miss Betrand and Mrs. H. Craft.

Week end guests who were hospitably entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Atwood were Mr. and Mrs. Ed. T. Patrick of Goldfield, Nev., and Mr. Earl Hart of Reno, Nev. Mr. Patrick is a prominent business man with large mining interests and Mr. Hart is a college student.

About twenty of the friends of Mrs. Sam Glaze tendered her a surprise party at the home of Mrs. Daniels on Tuesday evening. This popular young lady leaves soon to join her husband at Reedley, Northern California, and her friends took this mode of expressing their regret at her departure. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Mrs. J. L. Matthews' Sunday-school class, consisting of twenty young ladies from the ages of 14 to 16, met at the home of their teacher on Monday evening to tender one of their members, Miss Eva Lamb, who leaves this week for Kelseyville, a farewell. It was in the nature of a surprise. Miss Edith Farmer, with her class of eleven boys, was invited to participate in the evening's enjoyment. Ice cream and cake were served and a very pleasant time was spent by all.

Among the pleasant birthday surprises of the past week was that tendered Miss Ethel Smith by her young friends on Monday evening in honor of her seventeenth birthday. Games were indulged in and refreshments were served. The guests included Misses Grace Arnold, Freda Homfeldt, Vannie Brubaker, Hazel and Marvel Mann, Freda and Lessie Fairly, Helen Kelley and Annie Mann; Edgar Poe, Harris Clarke, Ulysses Poe, Chris Mann, Jr., Clarence Schattgen and Lee McBride.

Tuesday evening Mrs. DeForest Reichard of Hollywood hospitably entertained a number of her Covina friends at the home of her mother, Mrs. D. Reichard of Irwindale. The house was filled with fragrant cut flowers and the delicious refreshments consisted of chicken pates salad, coffee, ice cream and cake. The popular game of five hundred was enjoyed and a novel feature was the ornamenting of the score cards with snapshot pictures of each lady's home, the gentlemen having to find the lady whose home they had drawn. Those present were: Messrs. and Mmes. D. Reichard, Crook, Given, Prather, Atwood, Elliott, W. H. Collins, Griswold, Devendorf, B. F. Thorpe, Mrs. Clapp and the Misses Devendorf and Marie Margo of San Francisco.

Carrie Chilton celebrated her thirteenth birthday on Monday afternoon with a pleasant party of little folks at the home of her parents on Cypress avenue. The little hostess was assisted in entertaining by her sister, Miss Mattie, and friend, Miss Minnie May Sisson. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in games and at the close the youngsters enjoyed refreshments of ice cream, cake and candies. Carrie was the recipient from her young friends of many pretty presents. The little guests were: Georgie Easton, Lucy Wheeler, Violet Tucker, Margery Clarke, Dana Goodnight, Myrtle Daniels, JuneSides, Gwendolin Sherwood, Hazel Potter, Harold Potter, Percy Atwood, Glenn Devol, Walter Sisson, Gerald Devol, Cyril Willoughby and Lucile Matthews.

Most pleasing of the social affairs of the past week was the musical evening given by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McAllen at their home on West Dexter street on Friday evening in honor of Miss Bess Mathilde Welch, a gifted soprano soloist and vocal instructor of Los Angeles. A charming company of musical folk were asked to meet her and the parlors were pretty in floral decorations. Every guest did his or her share in making the evening a musical success by solos, vocal and instrumental duets and quartettes. Dainty refreshments sherbet, cake and coffee were served. Mrs. McAllen was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Wallace. The affair was quite informal but very delightful. The guests who were present included besides the guest of honor, Rev. and Mrs. H. W. White, Messrs. and Mmes. J. M. Whitsel, Wm. Warren, Geo. B. McLaughlin, W. W. Nuzum, J. L. Matthews, Hobart Cushman, A. R. Brown, Mrs. W. B. Gladfelter of Fresno, and Mrs. Ida Hicks of Kansas City.

A Successful Social.

The people who patronized the social given by the choir of the Episcopal Church Wednesday evening were well satisfied with the manner in which they were entertained. The work of R. J. Buchanan with his stereopticon slides and explanatory lecture was so far above the ordinary lecture of this kind that no comparison can be made. Mr. Buchanan is a strong reader, with the gift of visualizing his subjects with high dramatic effect. Mr. Robert Howland, Covina's best tenor, sang two songs in fine voice, "Dear Heart," and "I Envy the Bird." Miss Evelyn Fletcher sang a love song in the original Italian and responded to encore with a catchy song called "Bobolink." A chorus of twenty-five voices rendered Donizetti's "Italia Beloved," and a male quartet composed of H. L. Marshall, R. A. Howland, Edward Sprotte and Ora King sang two numbers pleasingly.

Died of Apoplexy.

A sad ending to a lonely life was that of Thos. B. Tracey, who dropped dead on Sunday evening, July 12, of heart disease on the streets of Azusa.

Many years ago he was injured in a railway accident and his injury and his disappointment in not being able to obtain damages, unfitted him for the ordinary responsibilities of a healthy, normal life, soured him against his fellowman and led to his assuming a lonely hermit life.

For eighteen years he camped in the wash between here and Azusa, but he was respectable and cleanly and well thought of by his neighbors, who helped him at times and even took him into their homes when he was sick.

He employed himself picking fruit and irrigating and during the dull season of the year often went North in search of his precarious living.

On the morning he was taken ill he sent for Dr. Ellis of Azusa, who told him that he had apoplexy of the heart and was liable to die at any time. During the day he told neighbors that he felt alright as long as he kept moving, so he walked to Azusa, with fatal result.

Funeral services were conducted at Clark's undertaking parlors and at the grave by the Rev. C. F. Richardson of the Presbyterian Church. The pallbearers were, like deceased, Socialists, and included David Foster, Herman Headley, Alvin and Ira Lamphear, Jonas Baughman and Frederick Shirk. Interment was at Oakdale cemetery.

Deceased was 54 years of age.

Among the mourners were a brother, sister-in-law and nephew of Pasadena, who, being in comfortable circumstances, had often urged him to make his home with them and give up his unnatural mode of life.

Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

The directors of the Covina Public Library have been offered and are desirous of securing a beautiful oxidized tablet of Lincoln's celebrated Gettysburg address, to be hung on the walls of the library. It can be secured for twenty dollars and the trustees have decided to start a popular 10-cent subscription so that every one may have a part in securing these ever-living words of the great Lincoln, which should not be hidden away in books we seldom open, but cast in a form as permanent and immortal as the principles they convey.

Subscriptions may be left with the librarian or at the postoffice.

How Pythons Settle Quarrels.

It was in October, 1894, that the big python at the zoo fell into the deplorable error of swallowing his companion, a snake only a few inches shorter than himself. A similar disaster is reported from Bombay, where for some years two large Indian pythons had occupied a cage in the museum of the Bombay Natural History society. There was some misunderstanding between them over a partridge, for they were found so tightly entangled in each other's coils that the utmost endeavors of peacemaking keepers failed to effect a separation, and they were left to settle the matter according to their own lights. Next day there was only one very stout python visible. These large reptiles evidently know but one way of settling a quarrel. London Sketch

May Be Sign of Trouble.

"In a certain uptown barber shop," said the Broxite, "there is a sign that says, 'If you are not pleased with the barber's work, tell the proprietor.' Now, I visit the place at least a couple of times a week and always get a good shave except when I get into the proprietor's chair. His razors are always ragging, his work careless and results bad. Now, should I tell the proprietor? Would he be insulted if I told him he ought to be fired and his chair given to a real barber? Of course the sign invites it, but I wonder what would happen if I told him just what I think? I'd try it were it not for the fact that he's huskier than I am."—New York Globe folks that thought they too could defy all the laws that govern the universe and go to the top of Old Baldy by way of the San Antonio canyon, but they didn't stop at the foot of San Antonio canyon; they tried to climb it. To make a long story short, nobody was killed, but the machine is still there at the foot of the bluff. The market for scrap iron doesn't warrant hauling it away.

Gasoline Gossip.

Now maybe this isn't all true, for this party was stopping at Baynham's camp and there have been some weird stories come from that place. Potter and Aschenbrenner are still doing business at the old corner—but suppose the Pomona people hadn't reached Hogsback first!

Geo. Griffiths was driving along the foothill boulevard the other day and a man hailed him. The man was a real gentlemanly looking fellow too, just the kind that sells you mining stock for a song; had on a stunning blue tie and wore a Cecile Bemmer rose in his buttonhole, little dimple in his chin—you know the style. Of course George, who is always courteous, stopped his car and said "Well, can I do anything for you?" Can't you hear him say it?—whole souled, ready to give the coat off his back to anyone in trouble—that's George Griffiths. But when the man said "Sir, I am looking for a little succor," George's answer is what puzzles me, "Do I look like one?"

L. A. Jones had a peck of trouble trying to make his machine run one day last week. The blamed thing would start all right, then give a shudder and die down. He looked at the carburetor, poked at the commutator, stirred up all the little arrangements that are so thick inside the hood—nothing doing. One smell at the gasoline tank and the mystery was solved. The grocery had sent him kerosene—now what do you think of that?

we have specialized the manufacture of hand-sewed shoes for women's wear.

For use in the house there is nothing better for comfort and service. Our product. SOFT SHOES FOR TENDER FEET, is widely known throughout the country as the standard line of its kind.

Prices are as low as is consistent with an excellent quality of material and shoemaking. Every pair is hand-sewed, bench-made in the old-fashioned way.

Some of the plainer kinds have remained practically unchanged for a generation past, while other styles follow the latest designs in modern footwear.
